Great Chorus Competitions at Alhambra

All musical Sierra Madre will have to look to its laurels and come to every rehearsal Thursday night between now and December 15. On that date the Community Chorus which has been conducted each week since October, under the able direction of Mr. Hugo Kirchhofer of Hollywood, will vie with the Alhambra Community Chorus, similarly trained, in five songs upon which they will be judged by three musical experts from Los Angeles.

The songs are: "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," "Old Folks at Home," "Annie Laurie," "Send Out Thy Light," and "Pilgrim's Chorus."

The points given to the winner will be on attack, facial expression, interpretation, quality of tone, and sustenance of tone.

The leader has repeatedly impressed upon all the members the importance of learning the words of songs, as well as familiarizing one's self with the notes. All will be given with four parts. "Annie Laurie" and possibly one other will be unaccompanied—a veritable test of note and word knowledge, plus tone production.

The compliments upon the voices in the Sierra Madre chorus have not been few and every member must need exert himself if we are really to win the contest, and win we ought and must. One of the most needful factors for attention to the director is to know the words. So all minds to the memorizing between now and then.

Bring the Brown book as well as the Green one. An art number will be allowed each contestant and Sierra Madre has chosen an attractive one, with which to surprise the Alhambra friends.

Mr. Frank Barbour has composed the following words to be sung to the tune of "The Year of Jubilo." They are to be used as a greeting and in order to take our hostesses off their feet and help us to raise our voices in triumph when it comes to the five contest songs, must become our own or the song will not be effective.

I.—We don't come to sing the glories of our thriving little town, It would take all night and morning's light would find us only half around:

One big thing behind our singing is to meet and greet a friend, So we looked around for a friendly town in which to bring about this end.

CHORUS: Don't you look behind.... II.—Bright clear nights we see Alhambra's lights a-twinkling far below, From our mountain nook we took a look and said that is where we must go.

If we win this sing or lose to you, we hope that you will call, For one big thing behind our singing is to meet and greet you all. CHORUS: Don't you look behind....

The idea of this contest is just in this vein and is the embodiment of the community spirit which Mr. Kirchhofer never fails to emphasize. Naturally it will be no end of a lark and the time for leaving the Woman's club house for Alhambra that night is 7 o'clock.

One of the best ways to prove what the sings are doing for the attitude of friendliness in our foot-hill town is for all citizens blessed with vehicles to help transport the heavenly choir across the valley.

The chorus of one hundred members will require at least 20 automobiles. List your car and don't wait to be drafted. Telephone your glad hospitality to Sierra Madre Garage, Main 110.

Two more factors toward the success of this venture, for it is a venture in the musical world and will attract attention of song leaders and choristers all over the country, are:

(1) We need more men. Come along and bring that bass or tenor voice with you.

RAGSDALE-HILL

Miss Clara Ragsdale and Mr. George Lafayette Hill of Los Angeles were married Sunday in the Congregational church. The ceremony was performed by Dr. William A. Tate after the close of the evening service, in the presence of a small company of friends and relatives. Miss Gertrude Elsner of Sierra Madre was bridesmaid and Mr. Charles Street of Los Angeles was best man. The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ragsdale of Pasadena, formerly residents of Sierra Madre.

WARD-HEIDRICH

Marguerite Ward, daughter of Mr. Irving N. Ward, was married to Mr. Edward Henry Heidrich on Thanksgiving Day at 12 o'clock (noon) at her parents' home, 109 East Grand View.

The bride is well known in Sierra Madre, having come to live here when a small child, attending the public school and the Pasadena high school. Since finishing school and up to the present time she has been employed in the art department of the Batchelder Art Tile Co. of Los Angeles.

The groom is a successful young business man of Los Angeles, being part owner of the Los Angeles Machine Works, specializing in the manufacture of machinery. He is a young man of high principles and sterling character.

After they return from their wedding tour of the northern part of the state, they will reside in Hollywood.

The bride wore a white satin gown and carried a shower bouquet of lily of the valley and white sweet peas.

The rooms were decorated with palms and yellow chrysanthemums. Rev. Dr. Tate performed the wedding ceremony. The family and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom were present.

After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was enjoyed by all. The bride's cake was one of Mrs. Harman's famous cakes.

NEW RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

James P. Purcell, a resident of Sierra Madre since Nov. 1, passed away Sunday evening at his home on East Central avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Purcell had only recently purchased the Reynolds property and come here to make their home, making his sudden demise doubly sad. Mrs. Purcell was a fourth degree and charter member of Spaulding Council, Knights of Columbus, and was also a member of the B. P. O. E. He is survived by his wife, who accompanied the remains to Peoria, Ill., for interment. Bergien and Cabot had charge of the arrangements.

BOOSTERS AT BALDWIN PARK

The December meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce will be held next Tuesday night at Baldwin Park. Sierra Madre has not been well represented at recent meetings of the association and Dean Shaw, the local director, is anxious to have a full delegation. Secretary Floyd of the Chamber of Commerce has the dinner tickets for sale.

(2) Children's voices are not possible to combine with adult tones for a successful contest and in order that Sierra Madre Community Chorus may have an adequate opportunity to win, the youngsters, however well they sing, and many sing exceptionally well, are more than welcome, but are asked to comply with that old and to them all too familiar request to "be seen and not heard." That is with the chorus during the contest. It will be doing their "bit" that Sierra Madre may come home in triumph, bearing the palm and wearing the laurel wreath.

The first of the year we anticipate having Alhambra as our guest and making the Sierra Madre welkin ring.

Ole Hanson Comes Here To Reside

Ole Hanson, famous as the war time mayor of Seattle and later prominent as a real estate operator in Southern California, is coming to Sierra Madre to make his home. He has bought the home of L. J. Nelson at 647 Manzanita avenue, together with two other five-acre tracts owned by Mr. Nelson on Manzanita and Live Oak avenues.

The Nelson residence is one of the finest of the newer homes in Sierra Madre and the site includes about an acre of ground. The other tracts are partly planted to lemons, and include the beautiful vacant corner of Sierra Madre and Live Oak avenue. Mr. Hanson expects to make his home with his son, Ole Hanson, Jr., and family, who will occupy the residence.

Mr. Nelson retains three large lots on Manzanita avenue, west of the residence just sold. He expects to erect a new home there, being too much in love with Sierra Madre to leave it.

Merchants to Offer Many Free Gifts

Sierra Madre merchants will give an "at home" reception next Monday and Tuesday nights, when the people of Sierra Madre are invited to take part in a "Christmas Parade." Practically all the stores will be open to display the possibilities for Christmas shopping here. Many free gifts will be distributed to the crowd. It will be necessary to visit the stores to have a chance to receive these numerous gifts, which are all worth while.

BAZAAR WILL BRING PURITAN DAYS NEARER

The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church holds its annual bazaar Friday, Dec. 7, opening at 10 o'clock. The affair will commemorate Forefathers' Day.

Each booth representing a New England state with Puritan wares, food included, of course. The following booths will carry out the Puritan idea:

Fancy goods—Mesdames Sparks, Cover and Peak.

Aprons—Mesdames Hill, Lord and Sullivan.

"Has-beens"—Mesdames Hull and Brown.

Cooked food—Mesdames Rice, Udell, A. Johnson, Sr., and Walker. Candy, flowers and grab bag—will be in charge of the young people's society.

The College Women's Cook book will be on sale by Mrs. C. M. Bobbitt, and Mrs. Lehner will be at the punch bowl.

A New England dinner is to be served in the Puritan style with Mrs. Snell in charge. Service begins at 5:30 at 75 cents per plate.

Have you been up in mother's attic lately? No? Then you haven't seen a real "Fotygraft Album." Here you can see one at 8 o'clock and hear the small girl tell the family secrets as she shows it to you. Relatives and friends will be explained, including Sophrony Ann Gowley and Ferdinand Asher Peebles, a real hippercrit, full of good works and prunes.

SANTA CLAUS WILL STOP AT WOODSON JONES STORE

Woodson Jones has just received word that Santa Claus will make a special stop at his store Saturday afternoon, Dec. 8, from 2 to 5 p. m. Although this is his busy season, the old fellow said he could not forego the fun of making this annual visit when M. Jones will arrange a reception to which all the little folks in town are invited.

Two Killed As Auto Is Destroyed

One man was decapitated and a second man died from injuries received late Saturday night when a big touring car in which they and three others were speeding along the Foothill boulevard overturned a short distance west of Santa Anita avenue, Arcadia.

Antonio Torres of Lucille street, Arcadia, was instantly killed when his head was severed from his body.

Ascencio D. Leon, an employee of Ontario, died at 4 o'clock Sunday morning in the Monrovia hospital.

Pasqual Marcias of San Gabriel was seriously injured, but is expected to recover.

Tom Torres, son of Antonio Torres was painfully though not seriously hurt.

James Garcia of San Gabriel was slightly injured.

Car Turns Turtle

The accident happened, according to eye witnesses, after the speeding car, going east, appeared to swing from one side of the road to the other, evidently out of control, and at about the fourth curve turned completely over, smashed against a tree on the side of the road as it did so.

The car immediately burst into flames and a few minutes later the gasoline tank blew up.

Many Sierra Madre people heard the Arcadia fire alarm and the sound of the fire engine, and joined the rush to the scene of the accident where the glare of the blaze was plainly seen from the foothills.

A jug and bottle found among the wreckage are declared by the police as explanatory of the accident.

BENEFIT FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Mrs. Welscher, chairman for co-operation with Ex-Service Men and Women, announces that she will head a committee which will give the next Civic association dinner, the proceeds to be given as the club's quota for the benefit of the soldier boys. It is hoped a large attendance at this dinner will provide a sum sufficient to make a generous provision for Christmas cheer for local invalided service men, as well as a tidy sum for the headquarters work. The date is Monday, Dec. 10. Reservations, News office, Red 183, and the charge as usual 75 cents per plate.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL LISTS 500

Conclusion of the Red Cross roll call on Thanksgiving Day showed a total of about 500 names for Sierra Madre. Publication of the list will be completed in next week's News.

NEW DIRECTORS ARE SELECTED

Final return of ballots in the Chamber of Commerce election of directors resulted in the choice of H. E. Allen, Rudolph Hartman, Geo. Norris, Mrs. Jessica Wright and E. H. Porter. The other nominees received votes in the following order: Ray Grant, W. S. Hull, Fred Griebelow, Mrs. Genevieve Nuetzel and E. P. Bradford.

Next Tuesday's luncheon program of the Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of M. D. Welscher.

MOTHERS WILL FORM A CLUB

Mrs. C. L. Hoover, chairman of the Educational Committee of the P. T. A., and Mrs. R. A. McKinley will be hostesses at a meeting next Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock in the kindergarten building for the purpose of organizing a Mothers' club. Every mother is invited, whether a member of the P. T. A. or not.

Woman's Club Notes (Mrs. E. H. Carpenter, Press Chairman)

The program at the Woman's club on Monday was in charge of Mrs. Homer W. Glidden and was received by a large and most appreciative audience. We never have a more charming person grace our stage than Mrs. Kathleen Lockhart Manning who is, as our President says, "a foster daughter of Sierra Madre." Never before has a program had so lovely a setting in the club house. The parting curtains presented a picture which delighted every eye. Mrs. Manning, ever lovely, a jewel in a setting of real beauty.

An artist more versatile than Mrs. Manning would be difficult to find. Her singing is a source of never-ending delight, her piano work is a joy and her personality is indescribable. A composer herself, with a voice of remarkable quality, she plays her own accompaniments and by means of her charmingly intimate introductions, brings her audience unusually close to performer and composer. Laughingly she leads them through the land of nursery rhymes and transports them to the heights.

Another Art Exhibit
The third of the club's art exhibits is being held this week in the club house. For our approval Miss Loren Barton is showing a number of her drawings, charcoals and colored sketches which are a pleasure to contemplate.

Following the program and art exhibit was a reception to Mrs. Manning and tea was served by the members of the art and music committees.

Wistaria Idea Spreads
Sierra Madre is more and more widely known as "The Wistaria Town." Many delightful cards, decorated with wistaria designs are to bear greetings to friends all over the world. New stationery for business or social use, is being prepared for sale and it, too, will carry the message of the wistaria throughout the land.

Mrs. Scantlebury of 101 N. Sunny-side was the winner of the $5 prize donated by the Woman's club for the best sentence descriptive of Sierra Madre which could be used with the phrase "Sierra Madre, the Wistaria town."

The Art Committee is furnishing plans for the decoration of the porch addition which is to be called the Wistaria Room and this motif will be used throughout. To have a fire-place and mantel was beyond the fondest hopes of the committee, but Mr. Homer Glidden has presented to the club a wonderful mantel of Batchelder tile, carrying out the wistaria design and colors.

Work at the club house is more or less a thankless task and the workers, though they know the end will justify the means, grow very tired and discouraged. To them Mr. Glidden has brought much cheer and encouragement and has earned the gratitude of the club members who are working so hard to make the building program a success.

The new system has made brilliant lighting of the auditorium possible, and we expect the setting for our parties to be lovelier than ever.

Remember the Pink Ball tonight. It promises to be a huge success and we hope it will be enjoyed by old and young alike. Lovely decorations and fine music. Punch will be served by Mrs. William Carson Shaw and Miss Edna Green.

At Mrs. Mesecar's real estate office on Dec. 14 there will be a basket sale. Wistaria stationery, home made cake and candy will also be on sale.

Through an error, the monthly bulletin misstates the meeting hours of the Parliamentary Law classes. They meet at 11 o'clock each second Wednesday and 1:15 each fourth Wednesday, at 193 West Central avenue. Mrs. Hoover's name appears as secretary of the Dramatic section. She is to be secretary of the Mother's section under Mrs. R. A. McKinley, chairman.

Mrs. W. J. Miller, phone Green 90, will take the reservations for the luncheon on Dec. 12. Please call her before Monday evening, Dec. 10.

Norris Store Opened With Huge Crowds

Opening of the new S. R. Norris store last week proved the biggest commercial event in the history of Sierra Madre. Liberal advertising and the distribution of free gifts brought crowds which thronged the store. The food demonstration booths made the place look like a county fair. Miss M. Scherer of the Pasadena Biscuit Co. arranged the big food show which contributed so much to the success of the opening. F. E. Geiger of the Unity Products Co., and Messrs Field and Miller of the M. A. Newmark organization also were active in the conduct of this feature.

Among the interested visitors at the store were Messrs M. H. and Marco Newmark of M. A. Newmark & Co. They came out to offer their personal congratulations to Mr. Norris for whom they expressed highest regard after 36 years of pleasant business relations.

One of the most talked of features of the whole affair was the proclamation of congratulations to Mr. Norris on the part of his fellow merchants, through the News. Messrs. Field and Geiger said, "We have travelled across the country staging food shows and never saw such a fine spirit in any community as these merchants and your paper have shown." Mr. Norris was deeply touched by the expressions of cordial good will and said he was at a loss to know how to express his thanks. ((The name of Alvin Langley of the Sierra Madre Barber shop should have been among those signed to the proclamation, having been omitted through an error in copying the list of signatures.))

WIRING LARGE STORE BLOCK IN ALHAMBRA

The Sierra Madre Electric Company has just completed the electrical installation for the Halstrum block, a large store building in Alhambra. The building is located on the Ocean to Ocean highway west of Garfield avenue. G. I. Farman, proprietor, secured not only the contract for the building, but also for the individual store installations, including the Seelig market which occupies two rooms in the building. This big contract in Alhambra, together with the local business of the Sierra Madre Electric Co., has kept the whole force at work under high pressure for some time.

FUND FOR TREE TO BE RAISED BY BIG BALL

The Firemen's club will hold a Christmas Festival Fund ball on Saturday evening, Dec. 15, in the Woman's club house. The proceeds will be devoted to the third annual community Christmas celebration and baskets for distribution. This will follow the custom inaugurated by the Firemen's club several years ago. Tom Henderson, who has always been one of the chief boosters for this event, was appointed by the directors to take charge of arrangements.

SEAT SALE FOR NEW YEAR GAME

Sierra Madre football fans may make reservations and secure tickets for the New Year's Day game between the East and West, represented by the U. S. Naval Academy and a Pacific Coast team at the Tournament of Roses Stadium in Pasadena, from the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, by making application to him before December 6th. Tickets go on sale to the general public on December 10th and it is important that reservations be made by the time specified in order that seats may be assured.

BOY SCOUTS

SCOUTS AND "BUDDY" SYSTEM

In its ranks of nearly a half a million boys, scouting aims to assist in carefully planned and appropriate ways the various types in their progress towards the ultimate goal: "Men of character trained in citizenship."

The "Buddy System" is but one of these aids, and that it produces results in helping untrained or unstable boys to uphold the scout ideal of conduct is cited in the following instance by Ray O. Wyland, assistant director, national department of education, Boy Scouts of America:

"Scoutmaster Fred Gassert of Troop No. 1, East Newark, N. J., who has conducted a very successful troop during the past six years," says Mr. Wyland, "has evolved a 'buddy' system which is well worth recognition."

"Each new tenderfoot voted into the troop or patrol is assigned to two advanced scouts, whose responsibility is to 'pal' with the new scout and help him in every way to live up to the scout oath and law. The tenderfoot knows nothing of this arrangement; all he knows is that a couple of older scouts have become interested in him and have made themselves unusually companionable."

"These scouts, by close association, learn all about the tenderfoot and his personal habits. They mildly suggest modifications in conduct when the tenderfoot shows evidence of failure to maintain the ideals of the scout law. Weekly verbal reports are rendered the scoutmaster and conferences held on methods of treatment. If the new scout fails to react favorably to the influence of his scout 'buddies' after a month or two, the scoutmaster decides to attach himself to this particular tenderfoot for the express purpose of helping him to see the light and to adopt the accepted standard of worthy conduct which marks the scout throughout the world."

"Scoutmaster Gassert states that in six years he has yet to find the impossible boy who has been given up as hopeless."

"On one occasion he visited a family to obtain permission for their boy to join his troop, and was told that this boy could never be a scout because of dishonesty. He would even steal money from his father's pockets when his father was asleep! The scoutmaster was not daunted by this report. The boy did join the troop and today is a bonded messenger for a large insurance company with headquarters at Newark, N. J."

"On another occasion the scoutmaster was led by the tenderfoot to a gambling den filled with slot machines and other devices for flching the money out of the pockets of luckless boys. He took steps with the police authorities and had the proprietor arrested and put out of business."

GOVERNOR COX SAYS—

In a proclamation of welcome to scouts in the recent big scout rally of the New England states, held at Cambridge, Gov. Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts said, in part:

"Without drawing distinctions of creed, race or position, the boy scout movement is giving to the boys of our commonwealth invaluable training in all that makes manhood and power. It develops mind, body and morals. It is helping to make future citizens of the same character as those of the past who have given greatness to Massachusetts."

THE BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT

"Few modern movements, if any, hold as great possibilities for good to the nation and the race as the Boy Scouts of America."—Arthur M. Hyde, Governor of Missouri.

NAME CAMP FOR SCOUT HERO

Camp Biddle, vacation ground for Philadelphia boy scouts, was officially opened and dedicated recently with the unveiling of a bronze tablet to the memory of Herbert M. Biddle, the first scout of Philadelphia to give his life in the service of his country in the World war. Biddle, who was one of the earliest scouts in Philadelphia and a member of Troop 46 of the Temple Lutheran church, was on the United States Cherokee when it sank in the Delaware river.

About "TAKING A CHANCE"

An automobile is not quite so complicated a piece of machinery as the human body, but nearly.

You wouldn't take a chance and employ a charlatan or a tyro as the family doctor, would you? Then don't take a chance with inexperienced or unreliable automobile repairmen. They frequently make more trouble than they cure. We know, because we are frequently called upon to repair the harm they have done.

Don't take a chance on fuel and oil supplies either. We sell Red Crown gasoline and Zerolene lubricants because we know that they are reliable and that their quality doesn't change.

Is your car due for a general overhauling? Have you nearly used up the 750 miles its maker allows before the crankcase should be flushed out and filled with new oil? Let us give you Modern Crankcase Cleaning Service, using Calol Flushing Oil, the best flushing agent yet devised.

FOURTEEN NATIONS SUPPORT COOLIDGE

European Countries Join American President in Backing Golden Rule as Practical Program.

Geneva, Switzerland.—Officials of relief organizations from fourteen European countries have asked their governments and peoples to join in a great international movement to save the destitute orphans and widowed mothers in those countries of the Near East that have suffered from recent wars.

Dec. 2 has been set aside as "Golden Rule Sunday." On that day people will be asked to observe the broad principle of the Golden Rule by foregoing their usual noonday meal and eating instead the frugal ration usually partaken of by the parentless children of Greece, Armenia and Palestine.

The world's people will then be asked to contribute the difference in the cost of the two meals to the principal relief organization in their country, to be administered for the needy children.

Notable people in Europe who will co-operate to give the day an international aspect are King George of Greece, Prince Carl of Sweden, ex-Premier Clemenceau of France, M. Paul Hymans and Dr. Alice Masaryk.

AMERICAN FOODS BEST SAYS FAMOUS DOCTOR

Athens.—American standard food-stuffs are the best in the world, says Dr. Mabel Elliott, famous woman physician, who for the past two years has been medical director of American orphanages in the Near East. From the standpoint of purity and high food value, she asserts that no European nation can compete with the United States, and for this reason she insists on American products in all orphanages and hospitals, in order to meet adequately the needs of undernourished children.

Dr. Elliott's annual report, summing up the results of the care of 50,000 children in orphanages as well as clinics for 50,000 additional children in refugee camps and homes, says:

"Stable American foods are now the backbone of all our menus for rebuilding children who became weak and anaemic during the refugee exodus from Asia Minor. Our menus contain, not only bread made from American flour, and corn grits in porridge and stews, but also the liberal use of corn syrup, American condensed milk and American cocoa and macaroni, thus making a balanced ration to meet all the scientific requirements as to relative food values, calories and vitamins.

The favorite orphanage pudding is composed of corn grits with cocoa, sweetened with corn syrup, and made more nutritious and palatable by adding a sauce of American condensed milk. Such a pudding has a high food value and is very economical—no other equivalent food value could be obtained from other foods at twice the cost. Moreover, it is so palatable that children eat it eagerly several times a week, and never seem to tire of it. The American people, in providing for these parentless children such pure and wholesome foods from their own tables, are certainly making a practical application of the golden rule."

TWO THOUSAND SIGNS TO DIRECT EASTERN MOTORISTS TO SOUTHLAND

This year southwestward motor travel practically doubles that of past seasons! Nearly half a million, and more coming!

Welcome to hospitable Southern California!

Here are hundreds of fine roads, incomparable trips inviting selection—and the Automobile Club of Southern California is to erect 2000 additional signs on Eastern highways so that motorists may know just where to go, how to get here.

There's nothing to tell them what kind of gasoline to buy, but the friendly advice of the old-timer is likely to be: "It's 'Red Crown' for the experienced motorist."

You're not "taking a chance" with "Red Crown" in the tank—it has been the standard gasoline of the Pacific Coast for years.

100% power! Better mileage! True economy!

Look for the Red Crown sign—sign of the dependable gasoline that's refined by the Standard Oil Company.

Dr. Bayne Writes of Overland Auto Travel

Editor Sierra Madre News: If agreeable to you I would like to give my friends and your subscribers a concise description of my recent trip from Grand Rapids, Mich., to your beloved city, and my home at the present time.

With three companions, all gentlemen, I left Grand Rapids soon after nine o'clock Monday morning, Oct. 15, as fine a morning as you ever experienced, even in sunny Southern California, in a brand new 5-passenger, 6-cylinder Buick sedan car. We did not either of us have much baggage so the car was comparatively light. The car had already been run about 700 miles and was in splendid condition. The first 200 miles of road was ideal, which brought us to Chicago, where we spent the first night. The next 200 miles the road was cement and faultless. At the end of that we ran into a rain storm and mud beyond description for 25 miles until we reached Cedar Rapids we found pretty hard sledding. We finally reached the city and found a comfortable place to stop and I put a veto on going any farther in such roads.

The inhabitants told us one day of bright sun and wind would dry up the mud and so that the roads could be scraped and made as good as ever, so I went ahead to take advantage of the information. The next morning it was cloudy but not raining. I planned to spend the day writing to my friends. About 9 o'clock my three companions overruled my veto and came to my room and told me the car was at the door and they were ready to start. I protested but they claimed that their time was limited, that the weather was liable to continue as it was for many days and that they must proceed. I being a good republican gave way to the majority and went with them. Soon after leaving Cedar Rapids we got into the mud again and had a terrible time until we reached Marshalltown some time after dark only making 75 miles that day with much more effort and hard work than to run 1000 miles on ordinary roads.

Big Caravan

During that day we passed cars hopelessly stuck in the mud; others with broken wheels, some with burned out bearings and many with less serious disabilities. It was hard to pass them by without offering assistance, but it was impossible to do otherwise. We had all we could possibly do to take care of ourselves and expecting every minute to be found in the same condition.

The road was full of cars of every description, most of them occupied by whole families and loaded outside with baggage and household effects, many of them carrying tents, tent poles and bedding for the purpose of sleeping at night; some of them dragging trailers loaded with goods that could not be crowded inside, piled on top, lashed to the sides or rear. Occasionally we would pass a car with a shack built over and around it so that you could not see any part of them except the wheels. To watch the procession at a distance it looked like a caravan of elephants, camels, small haystacks and little shacks. I presume the heavy loading had a great deal to do with the numerous misfortunes so many of them fell into.

Good Record

However, we escaped them all and arrived in Sierra Madre one day ahead of my schedule time, Oct. 28, covering the entire distance including a few side trips for the purpose of sightseeing, 3047 miles. We made it in 14 days on 190 gallons of gasoline. Had it not been for the bad roads we could have made it in two days less time and very much less gasoline. Where we had a long stretch of perfect road we made as high as 20 miles to the gallon. I thought that was pretty good for a Buick.

At the rate they have been paying the roads between here and Chicago it will not be many years until the entire distance will be a complete line of pavement, and it will only be a few days pleasure trip to go back and forth.

Attended Lodge

On account of my youth I never ventured out at night after putting up at a hotel except on one occasion when I could not resist the temptation to visit a Masonic lodge at Omaha, Nebraska, where I received a royal reception and enjoyed myself very much.

While in the hotel at Marshalltown after my three companions had gone out to make their regular inspection of each new city we stopped at, I sat down to write some postal cards. When I took them to the desk said to me, "Many of the guests around the office are very much interested in you; many of them claim you are Joe Cannon of Illinois." I would like to know what your name is and where you are from." I said it does not matter; let them enjoy their own opinion.

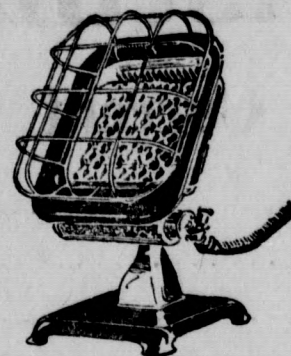

We were not in a hurry to get away from Marshalltown very early the next morning; when we did get started we found the sun the previous day and the wind that night had dried up the mud and the cars getting started ahead of us had beaten a hard smooth track for each wheel, so that we got along fine without anything to mar our pleasure except one puncture.

Stops in Colorado

We arrived in Denver about 11 p. m., having run 375 miles that day. The next day being Sunday we were not in a hurry to get under way. In the forenoon we had the car looked over, the oil changed, the battery cared for, every desirable place filled with grease, the tank filled with gasoline and the punctured tube repaired. After dinner we started as I supposed on our way to Sierra Madre. Before going very far I found we were climbing a mountain equal to the automobile climb to the top of Mount Wilson. When we arrived at the top I was told by my guides that the object of the climb was to see where "Buffalo Bill" was buried, and "view the landscape o'er." I have been very much interested in Buffalo Bill's achievements, but did not care to climb a little higher to view the place where he was buried, so I contented myself to remain near the car and enjoy myself a glass of the best cold water that could be obtained in any part of the world; also a glass of malted milk that was perhaps as good as the average, for which I was obliged to pay double price. After the boys had seen all they wanted to of the grave they returned to the car. It had gotten pretty well cooled off after so heavy a climb so we started on the downward trip back to Denver, which pretty near finished the day, so we only made Colorado Springs that night. We did not see much of the Springs, as we left early the next morning to make up for the time lost on the mountain, but we saw enough to know it was a very attractive place and a desirable place to stop at. I also liked Denver very much. It is a very attractive city and seems to be prosperous.

The roads from start to finish through Colorado are very fine, but when we got into New Mexico we found serious trouble. The most of the way the roads were fairly good but before we reached Gallup we ran into a place where they had recently had quite a fall of snow. It had nearly all melted away and soaked into the ground and made the roads almost impassable. There is where we met with the greatest difficulty and came the nearest disaster. For about 25 miles the other side of Gallup we found a good road but on leaving the city coming this way we got into the worst trouble on the entire trip. We stayed in Gallup all night. During the entire night belated tourists were continually coming in and while we were loading (Continued on Page Five) ing up for a start one car came in that we passed in the mud the night before. He stopped for an instant. We asked him if he had been on the road all night; he said he had and drove on. We soon overtook and passed him; he was so heavily loaded with camping equipment, etc., that you could hardly see any part of his car.

Those Famous Highways

We found very little smooth cement roads either in New Mexico or Arizona, but after getting out of the mud west of Gallup natural roads, not any mud but pretty rough until we reached the famous paved roads of Southern California. When my companions complained of the hard roads over which we were passing I tried to jolly them up by telling them of the roads we would have from the time we crossed the California line until we reached Sierra Madre. But lo and behold; when we finally reached the line for many miles through the desert the roads were as bad if not worse than those we had just passed over, so the boys had the laugh on me and reminded me frequently of my promised smooth pavements until we finally reached them.

I cannot imagine why California, with all her boasted enterprise of furnishing the travelling public with the most and best paved roads of any state in the Union, should neglect this long and much traveled stretch of road through the desert where the accommodations are so poor and it is so far between stations where you can get supplies or repairs in case of accident, and so desirable to get through the unattractive territory in the shortest possible space of time. The accommodations for both sleep and refreshments are very objectionable if not unendurable. The roads above all others in the state should be kept in a condition to admit of those traveling over them to get through the territory with the greatest amount of speed and safety. We passed cars with various disabilities, the people sitting by the roadside waiting for repairs to come from some distance in all probability without either food or drink. In some instances we saw cars and parts of cars shoved to one side of the road and apparently abandoned, as there was not any owner in sight.

I presume there are more motor tourists coming to California over this route than any other entering the State and it ought to be made the most desirable instead of the most objectionable in the State.

At the time I came through it was rather late for those east of the Rockies to be coming. There was almost a continued procession. We were not as heavily loaded as the others and could run faster than some of them over the rough desert roads. The last day we were in the desert I counted the number of cars we passed and in all probability we did not pass one-fourth of the cars on the road; we only passed those too heavily loaded to run as fast as we did, still we passed 62 in running the hundred miles.

2000 People Daily

We stopped one night in a small town in New Mexico, called Springer. The hotel man told us they placed two young men on a bridge that all cars bound for California had to cross, and they counted on an average of over 2000 people each day bound for Southern California. There are several routes over which people enter California. That is only one. Then take into consideration the hundreds of thousands of people the different lines of railroads are bringing into this part of the state. What can the grand total be and what will be the final result?

The side trip to the Grand Canyon in Arizona was worth more than the cost of the whole trip. I did not have any conception of what it was until I gazed upon it. It is a wonderful freak of nature. They claim there is not anything in the world to compare with it. It cannot be described either by pen or camera. It must be seen to be appreciated. It is a full long day on the back of mules to go to the bottom and return; we did not get there till 10 a. m. The procession of sightseers had left long before that so they organized a party of six or eight to make a short trip to the half way stopping place. I did not go down. The manager of the mule train said I could not stand the trip on account of my age. I insisted that I could, but he would not let me have a mule, so the best I could do was to follow them on foot. We had hardly got started before the last mule was out of my sight. Still I followed on for about a mile. The trail was so steep my feet shoved down into my shoes so that it soon took the skin off my toes so I had to turn back and I was glad before I reached the surface again that I did not go any further down. The distance I did go gave me a very good idea of what the rest of the trip would be. The rest of the party did not return until 4 p. m. and they were pretty well tired out. The walls of the canyon seem to be almost perpendicular and almost solid rock of varied brilliant colorings, with here and there shrubbery growing out of the crevices. They say there is a swift running river at the bottom navigated by venturesome people in rowboats and to prove it there are worn out boats with broken oars and paddles on exhibition. You cannot see the river from the rim and those who went half way down said they did not see anything of it. Nevertheless I believe it is there and it is called the Colorado.

CHILDREN TO HAVE A DAY AT RAYMOND

There's going to be a chance Saturday for every boy and girl in Pasadena to "break into the movies." The Raymond Theatre has set aside next Saturday as "Children's Day," and the Smith-King Players are presenting "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" for the event. Children will be particularly interested in this clean and delightful comedy inasmuch as many children are included in the cast.

Motion pictures of all children attending the performance will be taken in Library Park promptly at 2 o'clock, just twenty minutes prior to the raising of the curtain on the first act. Frederick Dunham, comedian with the Smith-King Players, will take the picture, as he is the local representative of the International News Reel Service and has a motion picture camera equipped for this work. Seats for this special Saturday event will go on sale Monday at 10 a. m. The pictures taken in the park will be shown at the Strand as soon as they can be developed and printed.

Many other features are on the afternoon's program. They will include a flashlight of all children on the stage at the conclusion of the performance. This picture will run on this page the following Saturday.

"Smilin' Through"

Requests for a return presentation of "Smilin' Through" by the Smith-King Players continue to come to the Raymond in fairly large numbers, although many more names are needed to guarantee a successful second engagement. Up to last night 1227 names had been turned in as against a required 4000. Many clubs in Pasadena and also in nearby cities are hoping it will be staged again as they would like to arrange benefit performances throughout the week. A date will be set just as soon as the required number of guarantees have been received. It

GROCERIES --- MEATS VARIETY GOODS

To Our Many Friends :

We thank you for the magnificent manner you helped put over our Grand Opening and Pure Food Show the biggest and most successful event of the kind ever held in Sierra Madre—the demonstrators state, the most successful Food Show ever held in Southern California by any individual store. But that is characteristic of Sierra Madre—when she puts an event over she puts it over big.

And to our fellow merchants of Sierra Madre we wish to state that we fully appreciate the grand, generous spirit of your united congratulations for our efforts to promote more and better business in Sierra Madre.

U-Ban-O

Condensed Chili con Carne

—the chile con carne without beans. There is no other chili con carne like it. It has the flavor that all Americans are fond of. It can be used for the most favorite Spanish and Italian dishes. It is good for gravies and meats. Water and beans are eliminated and in this way do away with five tins, combining them all in one, thus making a considerable saving. All that is required to prepare your half-pound can of condensed chili as per directions on label of can and add one-half pound of boiled beans; this will serve seven people.

OUR SPARTAN SELF-SERVICE DEPARTMENT

The Self-Serve Store within a service store

You will find it the most economical way of buying. You do not pay many extra expenses necessary in the regular service store. The prices are as low as in the large self-service stores of Pasadena and Los Angeles.

Our aim is to give Sierra Madre a Self-Service department equal to any in Southern California. There will be bargain tables with real bargains every day that will pay you to make at least one visit to this department each day. No telephone calls in this department.

Watch for the Spartan News Week End Specials on sale only in this self-service department.

In our Regular Service Store we aim to give you real value in quality and good service. Telephone your wants and our delivery service will make prompt delivery. Thank you.

FIRST STAR SCOUT BADGE IS AWARDED

The honor of being presented with the first Star Scout badge for Troop One, Sierra Madre Boy Scouts, came to Harvey Bennett last Monday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the district Court of Honor at Monrovia. Scout Bennett has made very rapid advancement since he joined the troop and besides accrediting himself splendidly as a scout and patrol leader, is working up the line of promotion toward an "Eagle Badge."

The library of Troop One, Sierra Madre Boy Scouts, has been much augmented of late by the addition of many excellent books donated by friends. One of the largest gifts came this past week from Miss Alice Stanley of Pasadena, formerly of Sierra Madre. Over one hundred dollars' worth of books were in this collection, all of them of especial value and service to the scouts. An American encyclopedia, the full set being in quarter leather; bird books; books on flowers and plants and the tree life of Southern California; books of adventure, sea tales, stories of many kinds and sorts that are favorites with boys were included in this liberal gift. At the meeting of the troop last Friday evening a rousing vote of thanks was tendered Miss Stanley by the scouts for her generosity and kindness. The library, at the bungalow barracks, is opened at regular hours during the week for the scouts, and is in charge of Bernhard Bodine and Eustis Dyer, librarians.

GIRLS TO BE CHOSEN FOR ROSE FLOAT

Five high school girls are wanted to ride on the Sierra Madre float in the New Year Tournament parade in Pasadena. It has been suggested that the public send the names of the girls who would be eligible to the Secretary of the Civic association, whose desk is in the News building. These will be voted upon at the meeting of the Civic association on Monday, Dec. 10, and five girls will be selected for the purpose.

Marvin Webster drove too fast in the crowded condition of West Central avenue last Friday and was taken before Judge Forman on Monday where he was fined $5.00. Joe Kutscha "cut the corner" at Baldwin and Central and failed to respond to Officer Mueller's call to stop. He also drew a $5.00 fine.

Harry Russell, well known brick contractor, has removed to Phoenix, Ariz., where he is already embarked in the building game. Roy Totten, who accompanied him, returned to Sierra Madre last week. Russell has done a large part of the brick work in Sierra Madre in recent years the last important job being the new Norris store. His family will join him in Phoenix soon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Andrews have rented their home on West Central avenue and have taken an apartment at Bella Vista terrace for the winter.

The Woman's Guild of Ascension church wish to thank all those who by their presence and contributions at the recent bazaar and entertainment helped to make it a success. The Woman's Guild will not meet as usual on Friday, Dec. 7, out of courtesy to the Ladies' Aid of the Congregational church.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Andrews were among the crowds who went up to Berkeley to see the big game and help "root" the California team to victory over Stanford. They also took part in the annual homecoming of California alumni.
